FRED LUND CALLED SUDDENLY TUESDAY

Funeral Services Friday For Prominent Viborg Resident

Death came suddenly to Fred Lund, proprietor of the tailor shop and for many years the owner of Lund's restaurant. He passed on Tuesday evening following an illness which overcame him while he and his wife were visiting at the home of rMs. W. C. Larson.

The news came as a great shock to his many friends here. He was known and respected as one of Viborg's most successful and beloved residents. He had not been in the best of health for the past year since the selling of the restaurant but kept busy at his work in the tailor shop, working right up to the time the end came.

The Enterprise joins in the heartfelt wishes of condolence to those who mourn the passing of a loving husband and father.

The obituary will be published in next week's paper.

Funeral services will be held Friday.

OBITUARY

Frederick Otto Lund

Frederick Otto Lund was born July 18, 1879 at Bjereby, Vendsyssel Denmark. On November 5 1901 he was united in marriage to Amalie Markussen, making their home at Hjarring. Four sons were born to this couple, Eskild, Arne, Fredie and Erick.

In 1914 the family emigrated to America, settling at Racine, Wis. until 1916 when they came to Viborg which has since been their home.

Death occurred suddenly on Tuesday, March 22nd, presumably as a result of heart failure.

The deceased is survived by Mrs. Lund and the four sons, as well as by four brothers. Two of these, Carl of Soldier, Iowa and Christian of Marshaltown Iowa as well as the latter's wife were present for the funeral services which took place at the Danish Evang. Lutheran church of Viborg with Rev. C. C. Rasmussen in charge.

Interment was made at the Rose Hill cemetery.

Mr. Lund was a quiet, unassuming and sincere Christian. Faithful in his work and untiring in his devotion to his family and home. His memory will be cherished in the hearts of those who came to know his sterling qualities of character and faith.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all who were so kind to us during our bereavement. We want to express our especial thanks for the words of sympathy, the flowers and the many acts of kindness from all including the D. B. S. and D. S. S. and for the comforting sermon at the services.
