Obituary.

The Angel of Death has again spoken and has called—not the aged man or the little child, but one in all the strength of young motherhood. Mrs. Peter B. Hanson gave birth to a little son on Wednesday, January 22, and she never recovered and the end came on Tuesday, February 4. Lula as she was familiarly known told her husband and relatives that she could not live, that she would get nearly well and then get worse and die. She arranged all the little details and gave tokens of remembrances to those about her; her gold watch she gave to her husband. In bidding them goodbye she told them that she was going to God and for them to live such lives so as to meet her there.

She had much to leave; the home that she loved, and a kind and loving husband and the tiny baby that would have been a mother's pride and joy, besides parents, brothers and sisters, to whom she was bound by the tenderest ties. Sympathy goes out to all the relatives but especially to the husband and baby boy, who will never know the caress of a fond mother or the loving touch of her gentle hand.

Christina Nielsen and Peter Hansen were married only fourteen months ago, but they have been lovers and gone together since they were twelve years old, and it is sad that they should so soon be parted but we all have to abide by the will of God. His ways are not our ways.

The funeral was held on Friday of this week. Rev. Tychsen spoke words of comfort to the family and friends at the home, when a lengthy funeral procession accompanied the remains to the Baptist church where the pastor preached a touching sermon, and comforted the bereaved family, and reminded them of the last wish of the deceased, to live such lives so as to meet her in Heaven.

The following Woodmen acted as pall bearers: Geo. I. Phillips, C. N. Monk, Anton Hansen, J. C. Sorensen, L. B. Sorensen and J. C. Hansen. The Woodmen camp also sent a beautiful floral wreath.
