the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased in the UK. The prevalence of mental health problems has increased from 10% in 1990 to 15% in 2000 (Mental Health Foundation, 2002). The prevalence of mental health problems has also increased in the USA (Mental Health Foundation, 2002).

There are a number of reasons for this increase. One reason is that the definition of mental health problems has become broader. In the past, only severe mental health problems were considered to be mental health problems. Now, a wider range of mental health problems are considered to be mental health problems. This has led to an increase in the number of people with a mental health problem.

Another reason for the increase is that the awareness of mental health problems has increased. In the past, mental health problems were often hidden. Now, mental health problems are more openly discussed. This has led to an increase in the number of people who seek help for their mental health problem.

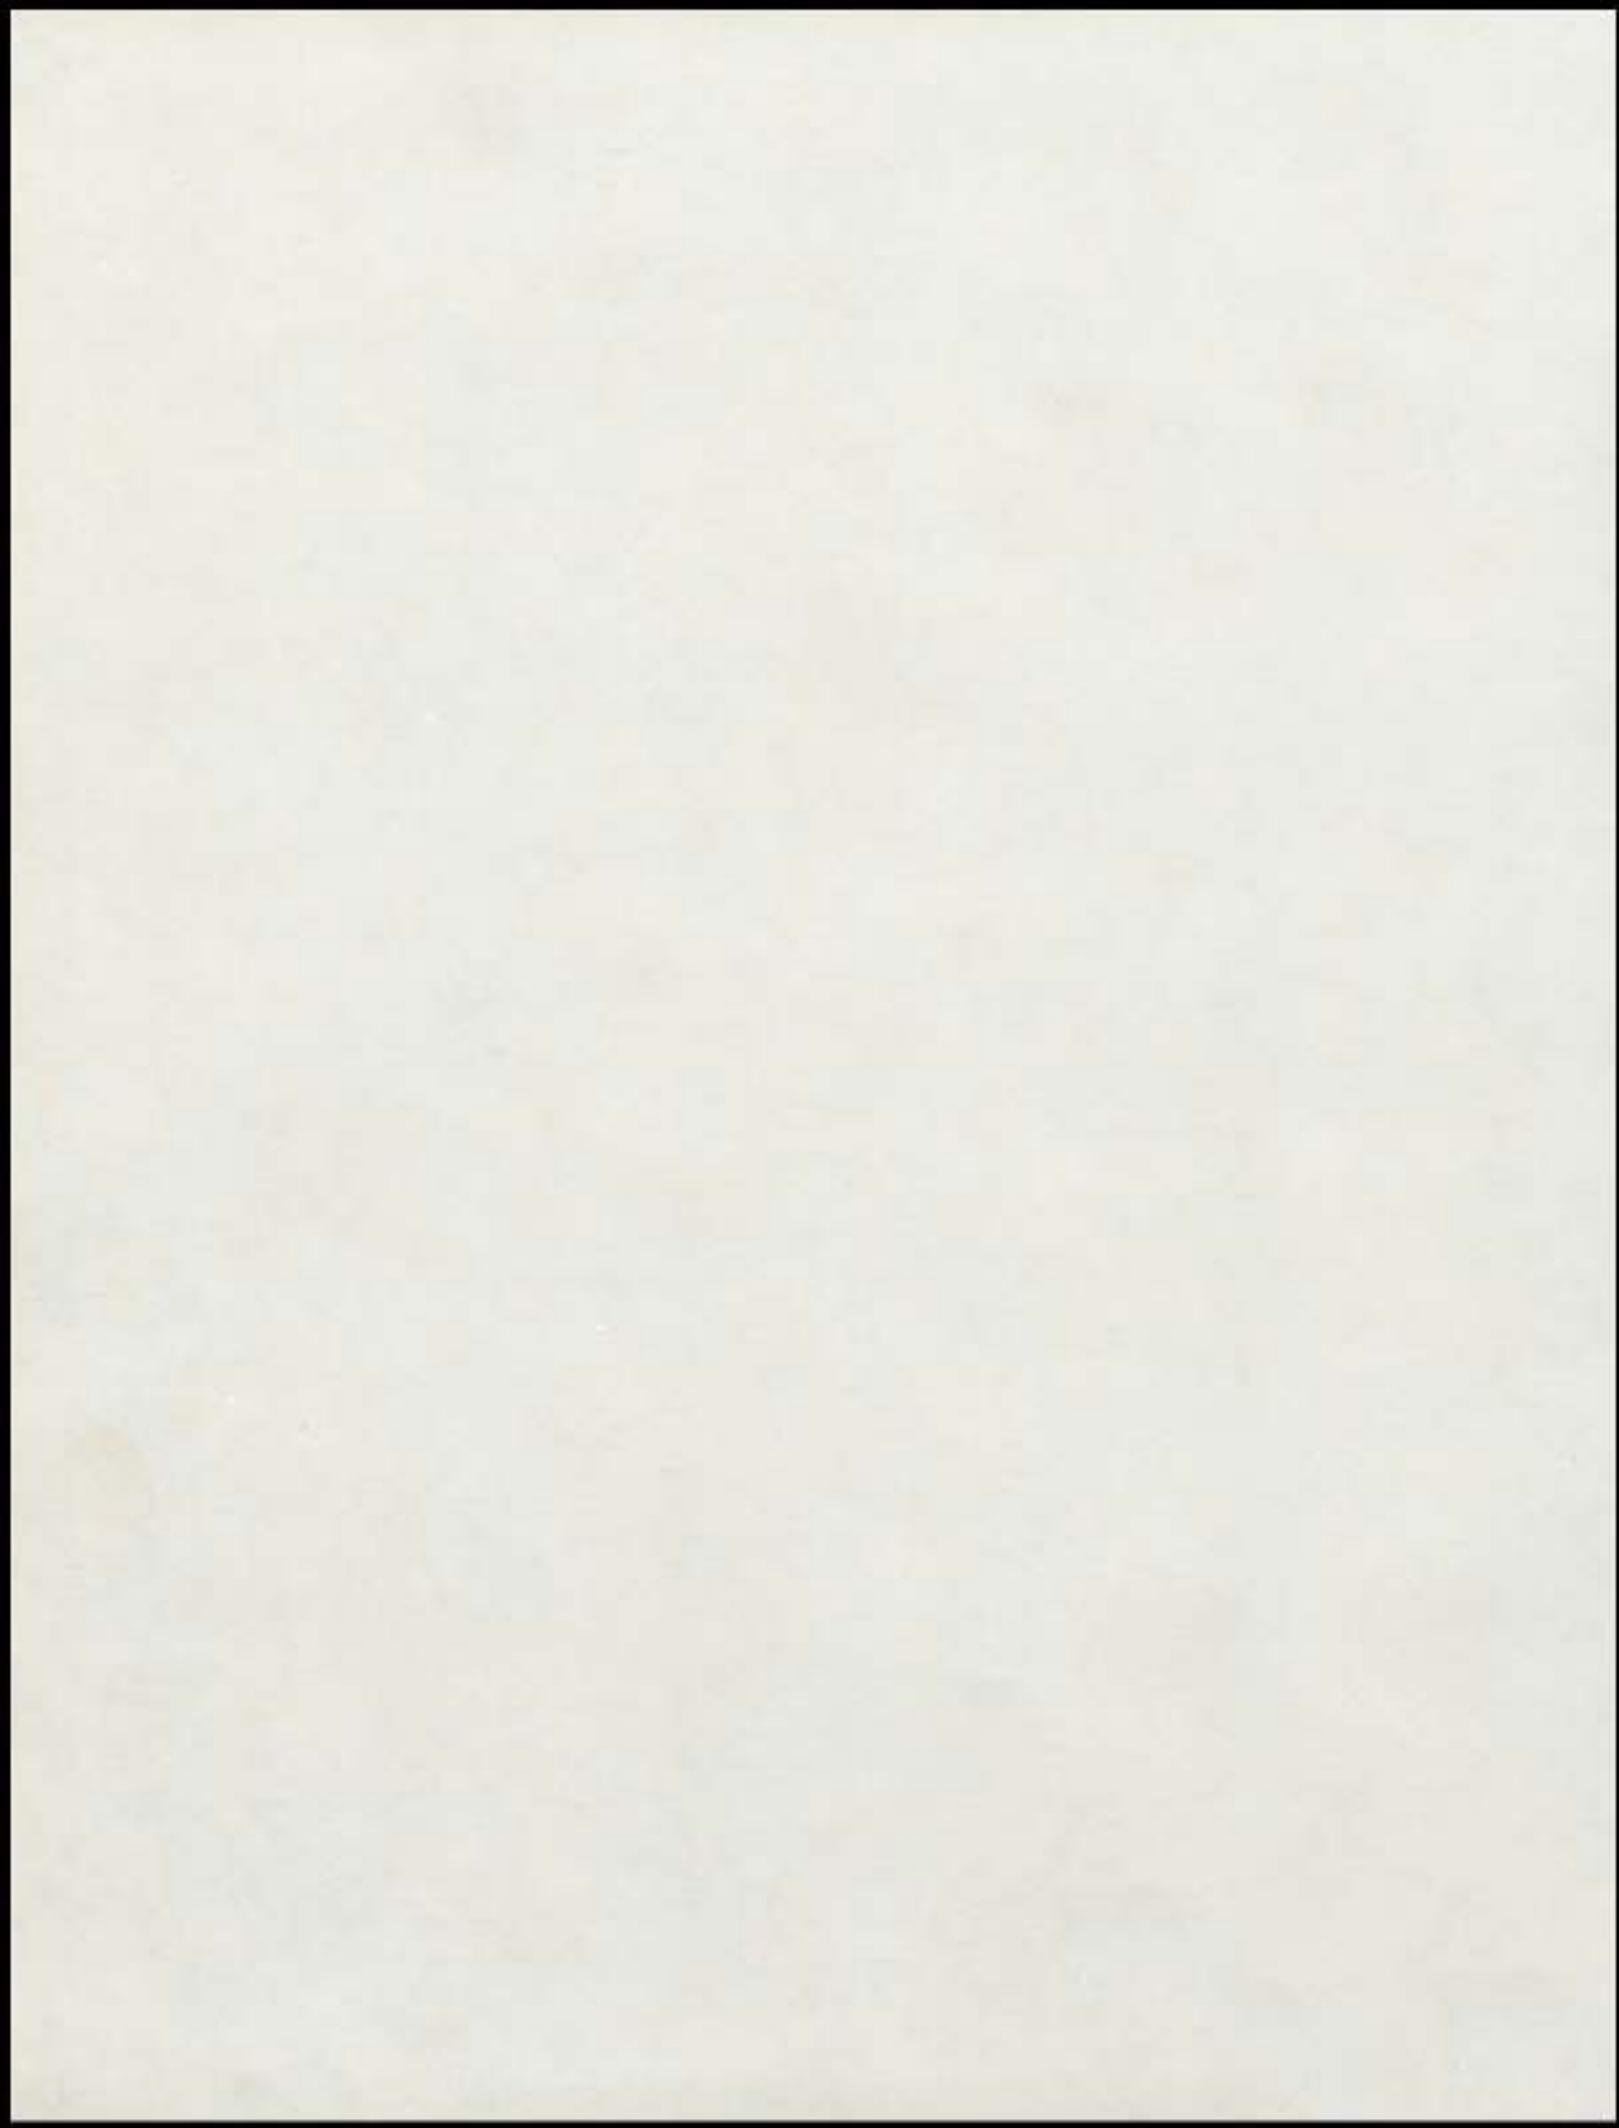

A third reason for the increase is that the stigma associated with mental health problems has decreased. In the past, people with mental health problems were often stigmatised. Now, people with mental health problems are more accepted. This has led to an increase in the number of people who seek help for their mental health problem.

There are a number of implications of this increase. One implication is that there is a need for more mental health services. In the past, there were often long waiting lists for mental health services. Now, there is a need for more mental health services to meet the demand.

Another implication is that there is a need for more mental health professionals. In the past, there were often a shortage of mental health professionals. Now, there is a need for more mental health professionals to meet the demand.

A third implication is that there is a need for more mental health research. In the past, there was often a lack of research on mental health problems. Now, there is a need for more research on mental health problems to better understand them and to develop better treatments.

In conclusion, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased in the UK and the USA in the 1990s. This is due to a number of reasons, including a broader definition of mental health problems, an increase in the awareness of mental health problems, and a decrease in the stigma associated with mental health problems.

Bookkeeping I waits anxiously in the doorway for the bell to ring.

Growing Socially . . .

Together we grow--
Building roots for tomorrow
Discovering our place among friends
Meeting the expressions of Familiar faces waiting in the hall
Cherishing a simple moment of
A flashing smile and stopping at Mac's for a burger and fries.
Sharing laughs and tears
Teaching us about ourselves and
One another
Learning and experiencing together
We grow . . .

Growing Intellectually

Learning not only facts
But also truths.
Sitting in History
We see ourselves as Explorers
Settling in a new land
Or experiencing the drama
Of a Shakespearean play
Finding self-expression
Through the teachings
Of a poet
Learning of life cycles in Botany
Knowing we have a place. . .

Below: The Bulldogs proudly display their 3rd place conference trophy.

Growing Emotionally . . .

Learning not to be afraid
Of ourselves
Sparks of emotion
Erupting violently during
The sweat and tension
Of the championship game

The buzzer rings
Feeling so good you can't
Out on top
Looking at tears on the Face of an opponent and
Knowing you've been there,
Too . . .

Everyday Events . . .

There were lots of everyday things that filled the time at H.H.S. Yet, each of them was special in some way because every day was new and exciting.

Messy lockers were not unusual. Even slacked lockers were not unusual! Craig Volk and Margaret Hasse made several visits to the school, sharing new ideas on poetry writing. The everyday P.E. classes were never usual either. The students enjoyed the many exciting activities they got to do.

Jeanne Davey at her locker: "How did you know I had such a mess?"

Every day in school also included those quiet times for thinking and studying, . . . or planning for something UNusual.

Homecoming Graffiti

With floats in their final stages of completion, '76-77 Hurkota days began with much anticipation. The coronation ceremony opened with Kathy Collins and Gordon Wirth, '75 Royalty, seated upon the colorfully decorated stage and crowning Lori Anderson and Jim Stephens as '76 Queen and Marshall.

Student Body President, Brad Mellegard, was master of ceremonies for the thrilling pep rally that followed.

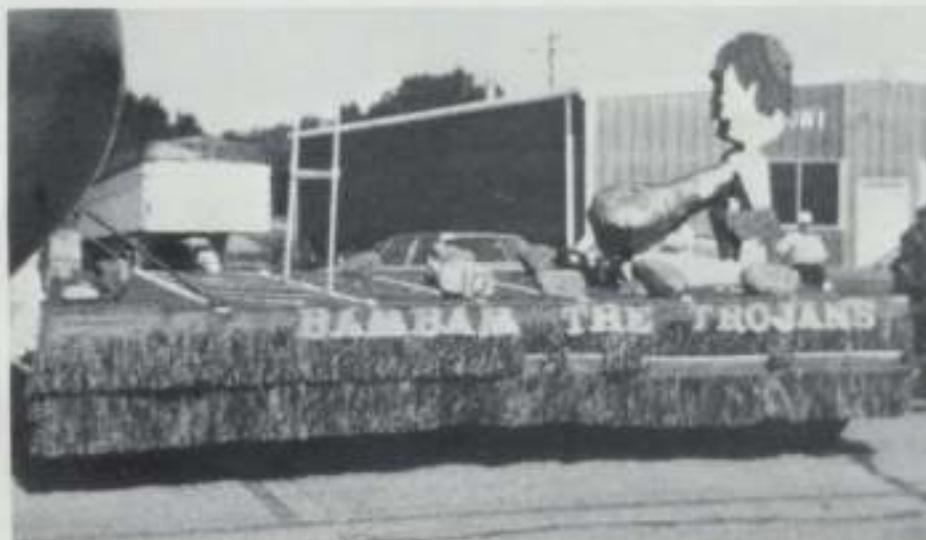

Cheering could be heard for blocks as the "H" was lighted with the students and faculty then retiring to the lunch room for pizza.

Sunny skies overlooked the colorful "Cartoons" depicting the parade theme as Paul Petersen, parade marshal, led the afternoon activities.

Following the victory that evening, students danced to the music of Spectrum.

Springtime Prom— Celebrating With Friends

Turquoise blue, ice blue, and white streamers surrounded the junior and senior classes at the 1977 prom. "Times of your Life" was chosen as the theme by the juniors who spent the week of April 30 decorating. Roast beef, mashed potatoes, corn, buns, salad bar, and sherbet were served for the banquet prepared by the junior mothers. "Wakefield" provided dancing music for couples who enjoyed the evening together.

Sweethearts Dance to the Music of KPAT

Music from KPAT furnished by Tom Sorenson of Sioux Falls filled the HH5 gym for the Sweetheart Ball on February 12. The crowning of Bob Hintz and Brenda Paetow was the climax of the evening. The candidates were Merle Christopherson, Mark Nielsen, Bob Hintz, Brad Mellegard, Peggy Lehmann, Judy Peterson, Becky Johnson, and Brenda Paetow.

Graduation day for the class of 1977 had finally come. It was a day of mixed emotions for most of the seniors. Both sadness and happiness tossed in the wind on Sunday, May 15. At 2:30 the baccalaureate service was held in the park with Father Wilford Schiltz delivering the sermon. At 7:00 the commencement exercises took place with Jerry Simmons giving a very interesting commencement address.

Good Friends— Good Times

That's what school was all about for the senior class. They worked together on their class float, "Bam Bam the Trojans", which won first prize in the homecoming parade. The senior class also staged "Terror in the Suburbs" in November for their class play. 5:00 a.m. came too early for most of the seniors who went to visit the legislature in Pierre February 16. The class held a soup supper and sold concessions for Bulldog Relays which was to make money for "Skip Days" in Rapid City May 6-9.

Richard Hansen was a twelve-year student at H.H.S. He participated in football and basketball throughout his highschool years and was named to the all-conference squad his junior year. He was also vice-president of his junior class. Rich was killed in a car accident July 4, 1976.

Honored Seniors

This year's Betty Crocker winner was Lori Anderson. She was chosen on the basis of her score on the Family Leader of Tomorrow test given to the seniors.

Eleven of the students from the senior class have attended Hurley for twelve years. They started in first grade and graduated together this year.

Each year a senior is chosen to be Hurley's Daughter of the American Revolution. The senior class voted for five finalists on the basis of dependability, service, patriotism, and leadership. The faculty then chose the winner, Becky Johnson. Becky went on to county competition where she became the DAR winner for Turner County.

Seven of the seniors are members of the National Honor Society. They each wore gold cords on the night of graduation signifying their membership in the society.

Learning and Excelling

Boys Staters for 1976 were Duane Benson and Jim Stephens. Chosen by the American Legion, they attended Boys State at Northern State. Becky Johnson and Lori Anderson went to Dakota Wesleyan for Girls State. Both Boys and Girls State was held from May 30 to June 5. The Alternates were Richard Hansen and Peggy Lehmann.

This year was the first year for the awarding of the I Dare

You Award to an outstanding senior boy and girl. This year's winners were Alan Peterson and Lori Anderson.

Each year the senior with the highest grade in government is awarded a $25 savings bond. Becky Johnson was this year's winner.

The faculty chose this year's Good Citizens as Becky Johnson and Duane Benson.

Cooperation Helps Juniors

Cooperation was the key word for the juniors this year. Everything they did was accomplished together. Working on the float for the Homecoming parade and the skit for Coronation night brought much pride in workmanship. Reaching a new record of $2300.00 in magazine sales taught the juniors what hard work and good organization will achieve.

"Inherit the Wind," performed April 4 and 5, was also a big success for the juniors. Concessions were sold through the year to raise money for Prom, held April 30.

Sophomores Hold Casino at Carnival

On coming back to school the sophomores met with many new activities and classes. Elective courses such as Draft and Carpentry were taken on by the boys. Here the boys built a model house and learned many new things. The girls taking Clothing and Foods were successful in both aspects of the class. Many of the sophomore girls were out for girls basketball, where they played a very big part.

The third nine weeks brought a new face, Pat Murphy, to the class. Pat is a transfer student from Sioux Falls, Lincoln.

On March 7, a carnival was held by the F.T.A. A Color Casino was operated by the sophomores who worked together and had a lot of fun.

Freshmen Sell Keyrings

The Class of '80 began its high school career with 18 members with Kathy Bondesen joining a few weeks later. They enjoyed working together on their class float, "Jabberjaws," which received 2nd prize in the Homecoming float competition.

The spirit of class unity began to form as the freshmen worked together to sell Bulldog keyrings as a fund raising project. The sales reached over $60.00. The P.T.A. also provided an opportunity for the class to make money at the spring carnival where they rented a booth featuring a ball-throwing skill contest.

Important Decisions Face School Leaders

The HHS School Board for the 1976-77 school term appropriated many funds toward school improvements. They placed glare shields over the east windows, repaired the roof, and also the street in front of the school. And, as in previous years, they set aside funds for school upkeep. Two of their special projects this year were purchasing a new steam table for the kitchen and putting a new tile floor in the home economics room. They also bought new children's playground equipment.

The Student Council was made up of two representatives from each class. At Homecoming they had a raffle for gas. They were also in charge of Homecoming and had a guessing game at the P.T.A. Carnival.

The H-Club was an active fund-raising organization. They held a bake sale, sold concessions at the Independent basketball tournaments, sold tickets for the Athletic banquet, and held an H-Club-girls basketball game. They purchased a whirlpool with their funds.

The FHA made money this year by holding a Thanksgiving banquet. They also sponsored a mother's tea, Sweetheart ball, and collected money for the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon. In May they went on a dine-out to Walt and Mary's in Sioux Falls.

Paper Staff Covers HHS Happenings

Throughout the year the Bulldog Barker staff met deadlines each week to keep articles rolling in for the Hurley Leader. They reported on various news items such as athletics covered by Mark Lauritsen, Jackie Benson, and Beth Hagenbuch. Beth also reported on the music events. Ruth Leber, Jeanne Davey, Becky Johnson, and Peggy Lehmann worked on senior interviews while the student interviews were taken care of by Sherry Knutson and Mary Ryan. Lisa Larsen wrote miscellaneous articles.

Chorus Sings Popular Melodies

Chorus was a time for those who wanted to sing their thoughts away! They performed at a number of events; the Pops Concert, Winter Concert and the Spring Concert. In each they sang a variety of melodies ranging from popular to more serious tunes. The chorus was under the instruction of Miss Patricia Tweedt.

All State Band members Lori Anderson and Peggy Lehmann relax with Mr. Streamke over a bottle of pop.

Four people were chosen to represent Hurley at All State Chorus in Huron this year. They were Both Andersen, alto; Daryl Elcock, tenor; Becky Johnson, soprano; and Lauren Olson, bass.

This year the John Phillips Sousa Award was given to Peggy Lehmann for outstanding leadership in band.

Super Star Musicians

Lori Anderson was chosen to participate in All State Orchestra this year.

Four alternates were also chosen for All State Chorus. They were Paula Johnson, alto; Matt Smith, tenor; Lori Anderson, soprano; and Dennis Nelson, bass.

Lori Anderson received the Arion Award for her contribution in all areas of music.

It's More Than Meets the Eye . . .

There's alot more to music than concerts at H.H.S. There's personal satisfaction too. Music isn't confined to the band room. It's in the laughter in the halls, the hum of voices in the lunchroom, and in every-one's heart.

Juniors Stage Excellent Drama

After weeks of diligent practice the lights came up on the cast of "Inherit the Wind" on April 4 and 5. Because of the large cast, six sophomores received parts in the play. Bill Wetering played the part of Henry Drummond, defense lawyer for Bertram Cates, played by Lauren Olson. Cates was on trial for teaching evolution in a public school. The prosecuting attorney was Matthew Brady, played by Jeff Eckhoff. The play, directed by Rob Hermen, was enjoyed greatly by both audiences.

Play Time!

An old abandoned mansion was the setting of "Terror in the Suburbs," the senior class play. The plot consisted of two FBI agents; Teresa, posing as a lunatic, and Mrs. Page, as the landlady, trying to find Hannah Cloud and George Mollison who murdered Rodney Cloud. Body after body was dragged in and out of the window box as the plot thickened with Betsy and Carla, innocently becoming involved. The hilarious espionage ended with Bill Henderson capturing and hauling off the murderers to jail.

Debaters Travel

This year's debate team, coached by Rob Hermen, traveled to Brookings, Sioux Falls, and Madison. The topic chosen for this year was penal reform. Supporting the resolution was the affirmative team of Eckhoff and Olson. Fighting for the status quo was the negative team of Wetering and Lauritsen.

Speak up!

Success is the word to describe this year's declam club. After winning the district contest at Hartford and the regional at Augustana, Becky Johnson and Peggy Lehmann advanced to the state contest at Pierre. They performed "Mary of Scotland" in duet acting and received an excellent rating at the state. A humorous piece, "Noah and the Ark", given by Ruth Leber won her an excellent rating at regionals.

Team Effort Pushes Squad to 4-4 Record

Duane Benson jumps to meet a pass in an exciting victory game against Marion.

The 1976 Hurley football team ended the season with a 4-4 overall record and 3-4 in the conference. Coach Mike Murphy said, "It was an up and down season, but when we came ready to play we did well and had a great time."

The players started practicing before and after school two and a half weeks before the first game of the season. The team also made a lot of sacrifices with a 10:30 weeknight curfew.

Our first game got everyone's spirit fired up with an overtime in the Marion game. In the last minute of the game a 45 yard pass was intercepted by Brad Mellegard from Bill Wetering. This touchdown won the opening game for the Bulldogs.

Aggressiveness Sparks Victory

This year the girl's basketball team finished their season with a record of 12-9. Beth Andersen, Pictured Lower Left, led the team in scoring by averaging 11.9 points and 14 rebounds a game.

Coch Kjergaard recalled this season to be very rewarding and exciting. "It was an enjoyable time for me working with the girls!"

The girls placed 5th in the Tri-Valley Conference Toumey capturing the Consolation Championship Trophy. In the District 22 Tournament, Hurley lost to Beresford by 8 points receiving the runner-up position.

Team Sharpens Skills

This year's basketball season began with many inexperienced ball players who knew they must work hard to be "winners". The first part of the season proved to be very difficult as the Bulldogs played some of the top teams in the state. However, the experience the Bulldogs gained proved to be very beneficial for the remainder of the season. Overall, the Bulldogs had a 1-6 record in the conference. Bob Hintz, the high scorer and rebounder for the Bulldogs was named to the all-conference basketball squad. He and Brad Mellogard were the team co-captains, encouraging the team with their leadership and enthusiasm. Brad was named the best defensive and Bob the best offensive player. The most improved player for the year was Dan Boomgarden. The Districts were a long hard pull and ended with Centerville ahead by seventeen points. The Hurley Bulldogs also strived hard in the Tri-Valley Conference Tournament and received third place.

The B Team had an overall season record of 3-16.

Off and Running . . .

According to Daryl Rippentrop, head boy's track coach, "The boys worked hard and had a good effort this year." There were twelve high school boys out for track this year. Each one of them placed in some event throughout the season and earned a letter.

They attended six track meets, including the Bulldog relays, Turner Co. relays, Boreford Lions relays, Alcester invitational, Conference track meet, and the Region V meet.

Two new school records were set in the 1977 season. The mile relay consisting of Duane Benson, Bob Hintz, Dan Wetering, and Terry Christopherson finished .5 seconds over the previous record. Daryl Elcock also set a new triple jump record of 38'11/2".

Randi Thompson, who won every pole vault event this season, went to the state track meet along with Bob Hintz who qualified in high jump.

Five Girls Qualify for State Meet

"It was a successful year for Hurley track", cited coach Murphy. The twelve girls placed fourth in the Bulldog relays, fifth at regionals and qualified five persons for the state track meet at Huron. Those participating in the state track meet were Jackie Benson-mile run, Brenda Boomgarden-long jump, and Lisa Lehmann, Lisa Larsen, Beth Andersen, and Brenda Boomgarden-medley relay.

The team attended five meets this season with the many underclassmen aiding the team a great deal. Jackie Benson broke her own mile run record at 6:02 over her previous record of 6:09. Running the two-mile relay, Susan Benson, Jackie Smith, Beth Nielsen, and Jackie Benson also broke the school record with an 11:09 timing.

Brenda Boomgarden, anchor for the medley relay team is shown at the Bulldog relays as she crosses the tape for a victory.

"Track is a sport in which you set your own goal and try to achieve it."

"CHICKEN POX POPS UP"--this thought and others went through the minds of the elementary students at Hurley for 1976-1977. During the winter and early spring many students came down with the chicken pox and missed many days of school. Before Christmas vacation, the grades saw the Christmas movie "Wild Dog of the North" as a Christmas present from the teachers. Every year the elementary students spend a lot of hours putting together an operetta. This years was called, "Cheer up Mr. Santa." As spring rolled around, the elementary participated in declam contests at Vibor and Harrisburg. March 7 will always be a night to remember because it was the P.T.A. Carnival. The kids enjoyed such things as: the jail, basketball throw, fishing pond, cake walk, and winning prizes. Students practiced daily on the school ground for Rally Day held on May 6. Spring brought excitement for the grades because of the Shrine Circus at the Sioux Falls Arena on April 22. This always serves as a reminder to the students spring is here and school is about out.

Children

What do they care of learning?
Do they try to become?
Are they made up
or put on?
Or are they just as they are?
A willow sapling,
Flexible yet strong,
Free to blow however
the wind may decide,
Courageously growing,
Beautifully becoming,
Not because they try,
But because they are. . .

children.

Growing Together . . .

Learning with each other
In little ways
Taking turns at the water fountain
"Don't push!"
Giving and taking--
Not always me but sometimes you
Building the Homecoming "H"
Side by side
Greasy hands and sweaty faces:
Accomplishment,
Singing in chorus
Not a voice--but voices.
Winning our first game
Not a player--but a team;
Cooperation.

Below: Terry Christopherson finds the answer to Dan Boomgard's question in Auto-Mechanics.

Growing Individually

Being honest with myself
Finding who I am--
Not who you want me to be
Discovering my abilities
Admitting my limitations
Individual learning
For
Individual living
Typing, sewing, thinking--
Things I do to be the Person I am.
My mind is open.
I am changing--
And so are my goals
To really know me
You must share
My learning tree.

Friends,

Together with our staff we have spent many hours preparing this book for you. Hurley High School is a very special place to those of us who have been here, learning and experiencing. In this yearbook we have tried to capture the atmosphere of our school and the people in it. We chose our theme "The Learning Tree" because for us, Hurley has been our learning tree. And a part of that learning has stemmed from the opportunity we had to create this yearbook.

The atmosphere of Hurley High School during the 1976-1977 school year is held in this book for you. We hope you enjoyed reliving the year with us.

Sincerely,

Lori Anderson

Acknowledgements

The staff of the Hurkola extends their thanks to the Hurley High School photography staff and their advisor John Jorgensen for the many hours of work they put in for the yearbook. We would also like to thank Cindy Johnson, Jim Wipf, and Al Nickel of Al's Studio for their excellent photography. Very deserving of thanks are the many advertisers and boosters who helped us finance our yearbook. Your support and help has been very much appreciated.
