Deaths

HOFFMAN—Hanna Marie Larson was born near Viborg, South Dakota January 13, 1885, and fell asleep in Jesus in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, November 8, 1928, following an operation and almost six weeks stay in the hospital.

She was united in marriage to Albert L. Hoffman at Sioux Falls, on March 3, 1920.

July 2, 1909 our sister was baptized and united with the Swan Lake South Dakota A. Church.

Surviving their loved one, besides the mourning husband, are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans P. Larson, of Hurley, South Dakota; her only sister, Mrs. Chris Flyger, of Hurley; and her four brothers, Joseph and Chris of Viborg, Doctor Irving E. of Adams, Nebraska, and Ernest J. of Underwood, North Dakota, as well as a host of other relatives and brothers and sisters in Christ, and friends.

All that was humanly possible, was done to minister unto the sleeping one; husband, parents, sisters and brothers sparing no effort of love.

For over eight years she was a loving faithful companion manifesting a price far above rubies. During recent years she was a silent sufferer whose patience and faithfulness is best known to her bereaved husband.

In her last illness, the burden which she carried for years for the salvation of her loved ones, was intensified and expressed as even in weariness she prayed for and ministered to them all. Her closing hours were a testimony to how a Christian can die in hope, noted as well by doctors and nurses.

Her patience and expressions of glad willingness to sleep and rest in Jesus, and her confidence in meeting her Saviour at His coming, cause us even in this hour of sorrow to find comfort in the assurance that we shall meet again where sorrow and sickness will be unknown and we shall go no more out.

The funeral service was conducted at Viborg by the writer, Elder George R. E. McNay, of Watertown.
