Successful is he whose life is an inspiration and whose memory is a blessing.

Whether we live, we live unto the Lord and whether we die, we die unto the Lord. Whether we live ,therefore, or die, we are the Lord's. (Rom. 14-8)

By death the Christian enters into another and better life; the eternal life. The hope of the early Christian was fresh and green and strong.

N. C. Pedersen was a Christian and willing to submit himself and his dear ones into the hand of X who was his only hope and refuge. With his soul strenghthened by the sacrament of the Holy communion he passed away peaceably.

You may well sorrow over the departure, but you should not forget to thank God for this goodness toward him in showing him the way to salvation and in granting him a Christian death.

My God, for Jesus sake, I pray Thy peace may bless my dying day."
