OBITUARY

Johanna Hagen was born November 18, 1900, in Trondhjems Amt, Norway. She came to this country sixteen years ago with her parents. She died July 28, 1917, of consumption. She leaves to mourn her loss a father, two brothers, Lars and Albert, and three sisters, Anna, Mary and Olga. The pall bearers were six members of her confirmation class: Prahon Drugley, Albert Johnson, Elmer Hansen, Andrew Bak, Edwin Bak, and Alfred Bak. The flower girls were also members of her confirmation class: Clara Sletten and Lydia Bak. Rev. Nervig of the Lutheran Church spoke words of comfort at the home and at the church. K. O. Lokken, of Irene also spoke at the church. She was laid to rest by the side of her mother, who passed away two years ago. For months her family and friends have known of her falling health and she realized that her time was not long for this world, but she was resigned to her faith and was ready to meet her Saviour. Everything possible was done to prolong her stay with us, but the Lord willed it otherwise and she passed peacefully away after months of suffering.
